MILWAUKEE'S CYCLE HOTEL TAKING RESERVATIONS

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 2008
BY LAUREN VIERA

After what seems like years of anticipation, Milwaukee's much hyped Iron Horse Hotel begins accepting reservations today.

Featuring five room options, the most basic (if you'd call them that) being "premium lofts" with high ceilings and oversized rain showers, the Iron Horse is aimed at upscale travelers whose taste leans toward leather and mahogany. Despite the fact that it's marketed toward Harley-Davidson lovers and owners (the lobby features custom hooks for hanging heavy leather jackets, the garage includes a bike washing station), the Iron Horse looks to be a decent choice for business and leisure travelers of the non-motorcycle variety, as well.
